Inclusion Works| June 6-8, 2023

Partner with CASE, Inclusion BC, BCEN and WASE to increase your visibility as a supported employment leader in Canada!

The 2nd annual World Supported Employment conference will be in person. The conference will take place June 6-8, 2023, at the Sheraton Wall Centre Hotel in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada with the theme: Inclusion Works!

What is supported employment?

Supported employment recognizes the many contributions of skill, talent, and experience that employees who experience disability bring to the Canadian workforce. It is a successful, individualized, and flexible model for matching job seekers with employers and facilitating successful employment relationships for both.

Organizing Partners

The Canadian Association for Supported Employment (CASE) is a national association for the supported employment sector. They work with employment service providers, employers, community allies, and other stakeholders working toward employment inclusion of people experiencing disability. CASE strives to facilitate full participation in the labour force by offering resources, expertise, training, and support to service providers. Through workforce participation, they promote full citizenship and social inclusion for Canadians who experience disability.

Inclusion BC is a non-profit federation working with partners to build community and enhance the lives of children, youth, and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities, and their families. They do this by supporting people's abilities, promoting positive action, and advocating for rights, responsibilities, and social justice. Inclusion BC is supported by a membership of individuals, families, and 63-member organizations who are working together to build inclusive communities across our province.

BC Employment Network (BCEN) is a provincial consortium of local and regional service providers delivering employment services to youth and adults with intellectual disabilities. Collectively, we support thousands of citizens. Since our inception in 2007, our primary goal has been to increase employment outcomes through the development and delivery of a wide array of professional development opportunities for staff and in the supporting and spearheading initiatives to increase the array of employment services available in communities across BC.

The World Association for Supported Employment (WASE) is a network of persons and organizations with the aim to promote supported employment all over the world.

Audience

The 2nd annual World Supported Employment conference will gather 800 delegates from community-based organizations, as well as the private and public sectors. We expect participating delegates from countries around the world.

Delegates typically come from the following groups:

- Employment counsellors and case managers from the public, private and non-profit sectors
- Employers with a provincial or national presence wishing to learn about supported employment and its value
- Leaders and managers from various organizations, from the public, private and non-profit sectors
- Business associations and sector council representatives
- Human resource professionals, guidance counsellors, and other career development professionals or students in the field
- Labour union representatives
- Managers and representatives in the education and training fields
- Managers and representatives from government or public service sectors at federal, provincial, and municipal levels

What can the World Supported Employment Conference do for you?

- Position your organization nationally as a leader in employment inclusion
- Enjoy the extended reach and audience of an accessible, in person conference
- Share best practices within national supported employment networks
- Improve your organization's visibility with key stakeholders
- Showcase your organization and services to 800 delegates committed to employment inclusion
- Establish your organization as an influencer in the field of supported employment
- Demonstrate publicly your commitment to diversity in the workplace
- Contribute, by your support, to raising awareness about the value of supported employment
- Meet with delegates in-person and have a booth in our exhibitor hall

In addition to an in-person partner / exhibitors booth and a robust profile on the conference app, you will have additional opportunities to make your brand visible as a conference partner or exhibitor.
